Virginia A. STALLINGS is a Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Pennsylvania Perelman School of Medicine and holds a Chair in Gastroenterology and Nutrition. She is also Director of the Nutrition Center at Children's Hospital of Philadelphia. She is a pediatrician and a clinical and research specialist focused on nutrition and health in children and adults, as well as on growth in children with chronic illnesses. Her research interests are in nutrition-related growth in healthy children and those with chronic illnesses. She has been extensively involved in pediatric nutrition clinical care and research for more than 25 years. She recently founded a company, Medical Nutrition Innovation, LLC, to develop new nutrition products for infants, children and adults. Dr. STALLINGS plays a significant role in the community of nutrition scientists and physicians as a member of the US National Academy of Medicine, the Food and Nutrition Board of the US National Academy of Sciences and the Council of the American Society for Nutrition. She chaired the National Academy of Medicine Committee on "Food Allergies: Global Burden, Causes, Treatment, Prevention and Public Policy," which published its conclusions and recommendations in 2016. She has received research and teaching awards from the American Society of Nutrition, the American Academy of Pediatrics and the National Academy of Medicine.
